Perseverance

Perseverance means to keep doing something even though it's difficult.

Why should you persevere?

You should persevere because you will do better in school, you will have a stronger self-esteem, and you will be more relaxed. We learned about perseverance by reading a story during an assembly called, 'Gritty Ninja.' This story taught us how to feel capable, carefree, calm, and confident. To persevere, you always need to try your best and keep going after making mistakes and failing.

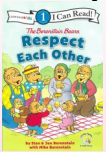

You can persevere by...

helping others, having reasonable expectations, rewarding effort not results, planning ahead, looking after a plant, learning how to play a musical instrument, practicing a hobby every day, making challenges part of your daily routine, volunteering, understanding it's okay to make mistakes, trying again when you fail, and not giving up.

"Perseverance is failing 19 times and succeeding on the 20th time." (Julie Andrews)

Respecting Others

Respecting others means that you accept somebody even when they're different from you or you don't agree with them.

Why should you respect others?

If you respect others they will respect you, people around you will be much happier, and people will also trust you and feel safe. We learned how to respect others by reading a story during an assembly called, 'The Berenstain Bears Respect Each Other.' This story taught us to be kind to other people and not put them down. Respecting others means treating other people how you want to be treated.

You can respect others by...

listening to them, paying attention to what they are saying, being thoughtful about their feelings, treating them like you want to be treated, saying please and thank you, being kind when mistakes happen, making decisions based on what is right, respecting physical boundaries, and being honest.

"We don't need to share the same opinions as others, but we need to be respectful." (Taylor Swift)

After that, they saw some cats. Kevin's mom liked the smallest cat because it was lovely but Kevin didn't like it.

Finally, Kevin's mom agreed to adopt the dog because Kevin promised to take good care of it. They both felt happy. It was a joyful day for Kevin.

STUDENTS' WORK

What a Wonderful Holiday (5E) Fok Ka Ho, Colin

During this summer vacation, I visited my grandparents' farm with my family. We could leave the city life and enjoy the country life.

My sister and I woke up early in the mornings to feed the chickens and ducks. My grandparents owned about 18 chickens and 12 ducks. We also got fresh eggs so we could cook them for breakfast. The eggs were delicious!

In the evenings, my sister and I went swimming in the lake with the other children who lived nearby. We could jump into the lake and cool off. We also picked fresh red berries and vegetables like carrots and lettuce.

I think this summer vacation was quite meaningful because I could enjoy the wonderful nature!

My Summer Vacation (5C) Chan Tsz Tung, Carrie

During my summer vacation, my whole family went to Shenzhen. My uncle took my twin sister and me to a horse riding training centre to learn horse riding. After putting on a riding jacket, a helmet, boots and gloves, the riding instructor put me on the back of a red-dish-brown pony. He led the pony and taught me how to make the pony turn right and left, how to gallop and how to halt. The pony was obedient.

When we finished, we took the pony into the stable and rewarded him with some carrots. I was happy and excited because it was my first time on a pony's back. It was really a wonderful experience for me!
